

Airport Extreme etc setup.

Check to make sure you can connect fine without the router and all your cables are ok and the power supply for the antenna is showing a green light.

The antenna cable and the little black box (power injector) are plugged into the WAN port

Open up the Airport Admin utility, select your Airport and press the Configure icon.

Set it up as follows, substituting username for your Yless4u username and putting in your password.

Give us a call on 02 6230 3699 if you aren't sure about your username and password.

Leave the "Service Name" blank. You won't connect if you put something in there.

Press update and you should be on. If you aren't and you could connect fine without the router, double check the username and password and all cables. If the username/password is wrong you'll get a "Authentication Error" Give Support a call and we'll reset your password and/or check the username.

If that still doesn't work you'll have to contact Apple.
